The Federal Government approved the provisional measure that allows the reduction of working hours and salaries of employees by up to 70%. The measure also provides for the suspension of employment contracts for two months with full payment made by the government. For employees who have their earnings and work day reduced, compensation will be made proportional to the reduction offered by government via unemployment insurance. Workers who are included in this proposal will have stability for a period equal to that of reduction or suspension.

In education, President Jair Bolsonaro signed an Provisional Measure that suspends the mandatory minimum number of school days, but did not reduce the minimum workload. In practice, schools will have

MARKET

The worsening of the pandemic continues to bring down the stock markets. The Ibovespa closed wednesday (01), down 2.81%, while in the U.S. market, the S&P 500 index retreated 4.41%. In Asia, stock markets are rehearsing a recovery, but the Nikkei index closed down 1.37%, in Shanghai the high was 1.69% and Hong Kong 0.84%.

TOURISM

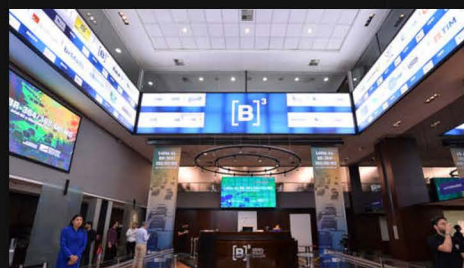

The World Tourism Organization launched yesterday (01) a booklet of recommendations to tourism companies in the face of the challenges of the pandemic. The document is divided into three parts: job maintenance and liquidity assurance; financial stimulus for the sector and the role of tourism in the global economy.

RACE AGAINST TIME

The mobilization to find a drug, vaccine or cure to fight the new coronavirus is global and the good news today comes from Japan. The Japanese group Fujifilm began clinical study to test the efficacy of Avigan. The medicine was used in patients in China and showed promising results.
