The Federal Government has backtracked on part of the provisional measure that allowed companies to suspend employment contracts for up to four months. The other points, such as collective vacations, remote work, postponement of FGTS payment, reduction of the work time and salary and anticipation of individual vacations were maintained.

Another announcement made by the Government was the Package of R$ 88 billion released to states and municipalities focusing on health actions to fight the coronavirus and reduce the economic impacts caused by the pandemic.

MARKET

Tuesday (24), begins with bullmarkets. Asian markets showed some recovery after the ANNOUNCEMENT of the FED (Federal Reserve) on new measures to stimulate the economy in the face of the impact of the pandemic. Shanghai and Shenzhen rose 2.34% and 2.37%, Nikkei rose 7.13%. European indexes also started the day higher.

TOURISM

In China, according to Phocuswright's Phocuswire portal, air movement is beginning to show signs of recovery. Data from adara company, which specializes in travel information, indicates that 58% of purchases made in recent weeks are for travel for the next 15 days. Corporate travel is the most sought after, a sign that the Chinese are starting to get back to the pace of work and are more confident.

AIRLINES

BNDES - National Development Bank should release R$ 10 billion credit to airlines companies. The sector, one of the most affected by the crisis caused by the pandemic, is considered a priority. The amount is added to the package already announced of R$ 55 billion to relieve the cashflow of companies and expand the supply of working capital. The goal is to preserve jobs and allow companies to recover.

HOTEL

Hotels are providing their rooms to treat patients diagnosed with COVID-19. Rio de Janeiro has already signaled this possibility since last week. The initiative is also repeated in Bahia, where a vacant hotel will be used for hospitalization of patients - in addition to the state of Paraná, which already has about 250 rooms available in the cities of Curitiba, Garatuba and Pontal do Paraná.
